BETTER SCHOOLS = BETTER CITY

I plan on bringing my actual experience with the City's schools and my community involvement to the Lynn School Committee. We desperately need to improve our Schools in order to improve our City. I last attended Lynn English in 2001.

Every family should have the same opportunity for their children. My child attends a Lynn public school.

I lost a strong mentor a few years ago. Mayor Menino was a strong influence in my life for almost 20 years. Susan Wornick did a story on that relationship. I received many emails and phone calls. One of the emails that has stuck with me over the years came from a friend from law school. She wrote: "I saw your entry about Susan Wornick and Mayor Menino and I just want to say how proud I am of you and of all you have done! You are so blessed with a wonderful outlook in life and your joy to reach out to people is medicine this world needs. It takes special people to step out ahead of the pack and you are one of them. The most important thing we can do in life is affect another person and you have done that, and continue to stimulate others to do it. Keep up the good work!!"

TEAM CONCEPT: "Great companies are built on a team concept and I can't think of a better teammate than you." I am a firm believer that any successful venture starts with a team. We all bring different views and experience to the table. My motto has been proven time and time again and the quote above was used to describe me. Our schools need to be priority to families, businesses and our government.

An outing at chick-fila with some students.

I have spent 7 years mentoring 11th graders

OVERCOMING: "Michael has improved the product here at Cohen & Associates and he will be remembered for that" I am firm believer that we must overcome our past challenges in order to leave something better behind. Every employer I have had, witnessed my hard work and dedication with improving the organization and making it a better place for our employees.

DELIVERING: "It is tough to envision our goals materializing without you being an integral part of the plan." It is easy to make a plan, it is much harder putting that plan into action. I have been put into many situations where failure was not an option. I feel as though the City of Lynn is in that same position with Lynn Public Schools. We must not fail and we must deliver for my children and for all other students.
